Small Grant Application Form

Northamptonshire Archaeological Society has funding in place to grant small amounts to individual researchers, local societies, academics and groups. NAS members usually take precedent. Applications will be rejected where the applicant is normally funded by commercial organisations or by local authorities. The Society does not provide larger grants.

The conditions are that each grant is no more than £500.00, that the archaeological research/ work involved is in Northamptonshire, that the applicant is able to fund at least 50% themselves or through other funding sources and will commit to produce a short note or article for the journal 'Northamptonshire Archaeology'. The application form should be filled in with regards the accompanying guidance.

The governing body of NAS is a committee referred to as the Council. This group normally meets around five times a year. Applications will be discussed and decided on at Council meetings. The NAS Council reserves the right to request clarification and to decline the application.

Contact details

Please give contact details of the lead person for the project and note how you wish to be contacted. If the applicant is a young person (e.g. for a school project) then the lead contact will need to be a parent/ guardian/ teacher who will be in loco parentis.

Other sources of funding

This is to assure NAS that it is not the only funding stream. The applicant is free to self-finance or seek other grants and funding streams. NAS asks that the details of those awards are listed. If the other funding streams wish to remain anonymous then we would suggest the phrase 'other private funding' is used.

Purpose to which grant is applied

Consider the archaeological background, history of the project, why this grant is required, why it is of relevance to the archaeology of Northamptonshire as well as who will benefit. We would also like to know that if the grant is to go towards funding a service (eg C14 dates, isotope analysis) and then who will be the supplier. You will also need to record if you have looked at other service provided that may offer better value: NAS Council members are often professional archaeologists or academics who may know of other providers.
